

Astra-san Tends to Worry

Yeah.
She said she wanted to do it
on her own that
badly... it's my duty as a friend
to trust her and wait for her.

Not
happening

Please
stop
worrying
that much.
It makes me laugh!

Is it really okay
not to go
with Noah-
san?

...Well
then,

Astra-san...

→ I thought
you were some doting parent who
was fixated on her,
but it looks like
you trust Noah-san not as child but a friend, huh...?

STEALTH
EQUIPMENT

I just recalled
that I had a little something to do,
so I'll be back!

So
this guy
here really
is a doting
parent who is fixated on her then!

... no,
I'm just going to observe
that kid's
growth...

Don't
you look
like you
totally intend
to stalk
her!?

Q&A Corner

■ What happens if you use that Pilgrim magic while holding someone's hands?

The amount of magical power consumed varies based on the size of the transported object and whether or not it is organic, so when it comes to moving unrealistically sized objects or living beings, the ordinary person needs a large amount of magical power which they won't have. Therefore, it just doesn't fire.

■ When will Astera show his face?

Well, I wonder...

■ Astera hasn't lost his skill at swordsmanship yet, but does he still train now?

He follows a daily routine for weight training and swing practice. On that note, I plan to have it drawn in the story roughly one and half months after moving in.

■ I wanna see Rose and Gor Gor in a maid uniform too!

I'll consider it, lol.

■ Even though Gor Gor doesn't have any eyes, how is he able to see?

It's not so much that he sees, but more like he feels. (Woo, scary...)

■ I want to see Gor Gor as a little animal girl.

Look, I drew her! →

■ By The Way ■

There wasn't anyone who knew about it, but the cover parody from page 75 (10) of Chapter 19 was from "Notes From The Shadows" by Astral Doors. Try Googling for it!
